Bespoke Picture Wood Blinds

A commissioned image reproduced across made-to-measure wooden Venetian slats.

Product illustration. The agreed specification and finish determine the supplied product.

Bespoke Picture allows a chosen image or artwork to become the face of a wooden Venetian. It can be used for a personal interior or a commercial design where a particular visual is part of the brief. The image is assessed before quotation so its proportions can work across the opening.

The reproduction is divided by the horizontal slats. It is most continuous when the blind is closed and changes as the slats tilt or rise. Important faces, lettering and fine details need particular care because a slat edge can interrupt them.

- A project-specific visual
- Made-to-measure composition

Planning your specification

Options to discuss

- Customer-supplied artwork subject to rights and suitability
- Crop and layout review
- Coordinated trim and supported controls

Practical points

- Slat edges interrupt the image
- Low-resolution artwork may be unsuitable
- Production follows approval of a feasible design

How it works

The catalogue construction uses 70mm abachi slats. Artwork quality, crop and the intended blind dimensions are reviewed together. You must have the necessary rights to use the supplied image. We confirm the proposed layout and production approach before an order proceeds.

Choosing the finish and details

Send the highest-quality original file available rather than a screenshot if possible. Include the approximate dimensions and explain which part of the image must remain visible. We can then assess whether a Venetian is the right format for the composition.

Measuring, supply and installation

AdamsBlinds provides measuring as part of a supply and installation project, plus made-to-measure supply-only quotations. Send approximate dimensions, photographs and the number of blinds required to get started. We confirm the specification and final sizes before manufacture. Factory availability, order quantity and any discontinued options are checked for your quotation.
