Tailored Leather Venetian Blinds

Natural leather covering for a tailored Venetian with visible material character.

Product illustration. The agreed specification and finish determine the supplied product.

Tailored Leather uses genuine leather over a supporting slat. It is a distinct option from the synthetic leather-look ranges, with the grain, tonal variation and surface character that come with a natural hide. The finish can make a strong connection with leather upholstery or other tactile materials in a room.

The listed slat formats are 50mm, 70mm and 90mm. The supporting construction, leather finish and required width determine how the blind can be made. Wider blinds may require a join in the leather, so we establish that detail before you approve the order.

TAILORED LEATHER VENETIAN BLINDS

Planning your specification

Options to discuss

- Compatible natural leather finishes
- Supporting material confirmed per order
- Coordinated stitching and ladder details

Practical points

- Natural hides vary in grain and colour
- Wider slats may include a leather join
- Weight and size affect operation

How it works

The covered slats tilt and gather like a Venetian, but their weight and thickness must be considered when choosing controls. Stitching, ladder colour and visible trim are part of the final appearance. A natural leather sample is an indication of character rather than an exact match for every piece used.

Choosing the finish and details

Tell us whether the leather is intended to match an existing item or provide contrast. We can assess a physical reference and narrow down compatible finishes. Any necessary joins, control restrictions and current availability are recorded in the specification.

Send approximate dimensions, photographs and the number of blinds required to get started. We confirm the specification and final sizes before manufacture.
