PRODUCT SELECTION / WOOD AND SCREEN

Wood and Screen Pleated Blinds

Pleated wood elements with thin technical screen inserts and a choice of patterns.

Product illustration. The agreed specification and finish determine the supplied product.

Wood and Screen Pleated brings timber and fabric together in a folding construction. Openings in the wood contain a technical screen, producing a repeated pattern across the blind while allowing light through the inserted areas.

The system uses 50mm wood elements. Its folding movement places specific demands on the fabric, so only suitably thin screen options can be used. The whole screen library should not be treated as automatically compatible with this product.

- Patterned wood-and-fabric surface
- Pleated movement
- A distinct alternative to a solid wood blind

WOOD AND SCREEN PLEATED BLINDS

Planning your specification

Options to discuss

- Compatible wood finish
- Approved thin screen selection
- Supported insert patterns and controls

Practical points

- Only suitably thin screens are compatible
- Inserts do not provide complete opacity
- Raised stack and window clearance need checking

How it works

The blind gathers above the opening as it rises. The profile, material thickness and drop affect the stack, and the headrail position must allow the window to open freely. We confirm the current fabric and pattern combination before quotation.

Choosing the finish and details

Begin with the wood colour and the overall pattern you want. We can then identify a compatible thin screen rather than asking you to choose from unsuitable samples. Screening and privacy are assessed for the selected material and lighting conditions.

Measuring, supply and installation

AdamsBlinds provides measuring as part of a supply and installation project, plus made-to-measure supply-only quotations. Send approximate dimensions, photographs and the number of blinds required to get started. We confirm the specification and final sizes before manufacture. Factory availability, order quantity and any discontinued options are checked for your quotation.
