PRODUCT SELECTION / VERTICAL BLINDS

Stitched Leather Look Vertical Blinds

Stitched synthetic coverings on aluminium vertical slats with visible edge detail.

Product illustration. The agreed specification and finish determine the supplied product.

Stitched Leather Look Vertical uses an aluminium core with a tailored synthetic covering. The edge stitching adds a small but visible detail to each tall slat, making the range a useful comparison with the smoother bonded-covering alternative.

The 89mm format creates a regular vertical pattern across the opening. Selected matt and metallic-effect coverings offer different levels of sheen. We confirm the precise covering and any two-face options supported by the current product.

- Tailored stitched edges
- Aluminium supporting core
- A choice of surface character

STITCHED LEATHER LOOK VERTICAL BLINDS

Planning your specification

Options to discuss

- Compatible matt or metallic-effect finishes
- Coordinated stitching details
- Assessed track and top finish

Practical points

- The covering is synthetic
- Finish options require confirmation
- Stack position can affect clear access

How it works

The slats rotate on an overhead track and move sideways when the blind is opened. Their edges and texture remain visible at different angles, so stitch colour and the view from both sides of the glazing deserve attention. A coordinated top finish may be included where specified.

Choosing the finish and details

Compare a sample with the furnishings you want to complement. We can then check the dimensions, draw arrangement and control position. The quotation records the covering, core and visible trim so there is no ambiguity about the construction.
