- Four current printed-grain finishes
- 50 mm slats throughout
- Contour valance

Perfect Grain uses printed wood-grain finishes to give the blind a more detailed surface than a plain painted slat. Four finishes make up the current range: Koa, Oska, Revera and Nordic. Each is listed with 50 mm slats and a contour valance.

The range is useful when you want the window to relate to timber-like textures while keeping the overall palette restrained. Its pale and grey-toned directions can sit alongside simple furniture, neutral fabrics and lighter flooring. Choose the grain with the room's other patterns in view.

Options to discuss

- Compatible tapes and tassels can be reviewed with your finish choice

Before you order

- Printed grain and finish names do not identify a particular natural timber species.

Finish palette

Keep the range, colour name and reference together in your enquiry. Screen and print colours are a guide; use a physical sample for the final decision.
